GROUP NOTIFICATION

to conduct an organised education or leisure expedition on the Bibbulmun Track

Bibbulmun Track campsites cannot be reserved but early notification of groups' intentions to use campsites enables the Bibbulmun Track Foundation (BTF) to inform other walkers when these facilities will be occupied by those groups.

Bibbulmun Track campsites are for use only for walkers using the Bibbulmun Track.

Notified use of campsites is posted in the Section By Section Guide on the Bibbulmun Track Foundation website. Click on the appropriate Track section and select the 'Groups on the Track' tab.

Notification helps to ensure:

- the best experience for all Track users,
- the ongoing sustainability of the Track and facilities,
- the conservation of the diverse environments the Track traverses, and
- assists with recreation facilities planning.

In preparation for an expedition on the Bibbulmun Track, please read the following notes on expedition planning and general conditions for conducting activities on lands and waters managed by the Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions' Parks and Wildlife Service before completing and submitting to the BTF.

Notifications must be submitted at least 4 weeks prior to the expedition start date:

Enquiries can be made to the Foundation at noi@bibbulmuntrack.org.au

If you are submitting a notification for more than one group, please complete a separate form for each one.

The Bibbulmun Track has four group use campsites: Alyi-wa Miya Group Campsite (near Monadnocks campsite), Mount Cooke Group Campsite, Lyalls Mill Group Campsite and Arcadia Group Campsite. These campsites allow for groups of up to 30 people (all other campsites have a maximum of 17 people in any group), but have no sleeping shelters. The Monadnocks campsite and the Mt Cooke general use campsite are generally not available for Group Notifications.

Vehicle entry fees into Lane Poole Reserve apply. Groups will need to apply for a fee waiver for vehicles accessing the Track in the Reserve. Contact park.passes@dbca.wa.gov.au. Camping fees still apply.

Notification by groups fewer than eight in number is not required and, due to the high number of notifications received, will not be acknowledged.

For expeditions conducted entirely on the Bibbulmun Track our acknowledgement of your Group Notification constitutes approval by the Parks and Wildlife Service to conduct that activity. For further information on permission to conduct other activities on lands and waters managed by the Parks and Wildlife Service contact the Recreation & Trails Unit at recreationandtrails@dbca.wa.gov.au.

All Track users should provide a detailed itinerary (including estimated time of return and finish location, and staged check-ins for longer expeditions) to someone who can contact the Police and Emergency Services (000) on your behalf if you are overdue. Neither the BTF nor the Parks and Wildlife Service perform this role.

Commercial events on all Parks and Wildlife Service managed lands and waters, including the Bibbulmun Track, require a commercial licence. For more information call the Parks and Wildlife Service licensing officer on (08) 9334 0119.

EXPEDITION PLANNING

For your safety, enjoyment and for the sustainability of the trails and the diverse environments they traverse, consider the following points when planning and conducting your expedition.

- The maximum capacity of Bibbulmun Track campsites is 17 persons including leaders.
- The maximum capacity of the Group campsites is 30 persons including leaders.
- Consider the ability, fitness and experience of all members of your group.
- Always carry the latest Bibbulmun Track maps and also the latest guidebooks.
- Carry a first aid kit and know how to use it.
- Ensure that you have suitable equipment and clothing and that it is in good condition.
- Be aware of restricted vehicle access:
 - There is no vehicle access to any Bibbulmun Track campsite.
 - Disease Risk Areas further restrict vehicle access to the Bibbulmun Track.
 - Refer to relevant maps and guidebooks for further detail. Look for the red or green car icon on the maps or visit Dieback and Bibbulmun Track access.
- Check the Track conditions in the relevant Section by Section Guide. Or contact the relevant Parks and Wildlife Service District office in the area you are planning to conduct your activity (see page 5 for details).
 - Prescribed burns, forestry operations and bushfires are among the events that routinely affect the Track.
 - Sections of the Track can be closed. In most cases, diversions are put into operation, but this is not always possible.
 - It is up to each group to check for changing Track Conditions, diversions, closures and any other impacts. Groups are not usually notified of these. Check the Section By Section Guide.
- Prepare for extreme weather:
 - Check weather conditions on www.bom.gov.au.
 - Bushfire alerts, warnings and total fire ban information are available from the Department of Fire and Emergency Services on the internet: www.dfes.wa.gov.au or www.emergency.wa.gov.au, recorded information phone line: 1300 657 209; or listen to ABC local radio.
- Conditions at the inlets on the south coast can vary quickly. Walkers need to make their own judgment on whether it is safe to cross inlets on seasonal sandbars and, if in any doubt, take the alternative route marked on the relevant map. You should be prepared for the longer alternative.
- Do not rely on your mobile phone – coverage is limited. Consider a satellite phone and/or a personal locator beacon (PLB). The Foundation has PLBs for hire.
- Carry tents – campsite shelters may be occupied.
 - Campsites cannot be reserved. An acknowledged submission of a Group Notification is not a guarantee of available space.
 - Groups of 8 or more are requested not to occupy campsite shelters before 6pm to allow individual walkers to access these facilities.
 - Tents should only be pitched on the pads provided at all Bibbulmun Track campsites. Pitching tents outside these areas damages the environment.
- Carry at least two litres of water per person per day in unbreakable and leak-proof containers. (Although Bibbulmun Track campsites have rainwater tanks the availability and quality of water cannot be guaranteed. Tank water should be treated before drinking by vigorous boiling or by using water purification products.)

- Carry sufficient food and a fuel stove. Fuel stoves are less likely to cause a bushfire, are fast, clean and easier to use in the wet.
 - Fires are only permitted at some Bibbulmun Track campsites, and not throughout the year (see maps and guidebooks for more details or see the section on Fire.)
- Where and when fires are permitted, a fire-ring will be provided. Please only light fires in the fire ring. Please do not light any other fires, particularly at any tent sites.
 - Do not collect wood from the immediate bush surrounding campsites – removal of wood by the high number of campsite users detrimentally affects the environment – it is not sustainable.
 - Do not leave a fire unattended.
 - Ensure all fuel is burnt to ash and fires are completely extinguished.
 - Total Fire Bans can be enforced at any time which means that even fuel stoves cannot be used. Check www.dfes.wa.gov.au for Total Fire Bans.
- Provide a detailed itinerary, (including your estimated time of return and finish location) to a responsible person who can contact the Police (000) on your behalf, if you are overdue.
 - If using transport contractors or support vehicles ensure that someone knows who they are and has a record of their contact details.
 - If using support vehicle operators, ensure they have:
 - a detailed itinerary, relevant maps (including access roads)
 - emergency plans.
- Stay on the trail; avoid cutting corners and widening the trail.
- Pack out ALL rubbish and personal hygiene products. Bins are not provided and ensure no rubbish is placed in the fire rings.
- Where a toilet is not available, bury human waste in a 15cm deep hole at least 100m from water courses, trails and camps. Cover and disguise the hole.
- Wash at least 100m from streams and pools and if necessary, use only a small amount of biodegradable soap. Scatter strained dishwater.
- Keep your boots and tyres free of mud to prevent the spread of dieback – use boot cleaning stations where provided.
